Jim Marshall is the world's greatest rock photographer, a certified San Francisco character, and Little Brown has published a new collection of his photos called "Not Fade Away." Looking at Janis, Joni and Jackson the way they were 30 years ago makes you feel young again. Marshall will be signing copies of the book at the Virgin Megastore from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday.

A gallery show of the photos opened last week at New York's Serge Sorokko Gallery, attended by Yoko Ono and Michael Douglas. The show comes to San Francisco on Dec. 16.
